

MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES

MCQ

1. The raw materials like iron ore, coking coal, limestone, manganese are needed in which industry?
  - a. Petrochemical industry
  - b. Sugar industry
  - c. Iron & Steel Industry
  - d. Chemical Industry
2. Which state is a leading producer of Sugar in India.
  - a. Gujarat
  - b. Punjab
  - c. Haryana
  - d. Maharashtra
3. Which one of the following does not come under the category of consumer industry?
  - a. Sugar
  - b. Paper
  - c. Fans
  - d. Jute
4. NALCO & BALCO are associated with which of the following?
  - a. Aluminium Industry
  - b. Petrochemical industry
  - c. Iron & Steel Industry
  - d. Chemical Industry
5. Which of the following city has emerged as the electronic capital of India.
  - a. Delhi
  - b. Mumbai
  - c. Hyderabad
  - d. Bangalore

6. FILL IN THE BLANKS:-

- (i) The first successful cotton textile mill was established in_____.
- (ii) Jute industries are largely concentrated in_____.
- (iii) Industry best suited for cooperative sector is_____.
- (iv) Bauxite is used as a raw material by_____industry.

Answer the following questions-

- Q1 Explain the significance of manufacturing. Give four pts.
- Q2 Give five pts.to explain that agriculture and industry go hand in hand?
- Q3 What are essential pre-requisite needed for our industry to be able to compete in the International market?
- Q4 Compare the contribution of industry to national economy of India to that of East Asian economies. How government aims to achieve the desired growth rate.
- Q5 (a) List the factors that affect the location of an industry.
(b) Explain correlation between industrialization and urbanization.
(c) What factors affected the location of industry in India in pre-independence period? What was its effect?
- Q6 Name the basis on, which industries are classified, sub-classifies industries. Give 2 examples each.
- Q7 Explain the contribution made by textile industry to Indian economy.